

Odstock and Nunton "Circular" walk

Through the gate and then head right along the pathway between the hedgerows.

Once out at the main road, cross over and head through the gate and long the edge of the field.

Another gate will take you through a small woodland and then out to the main road. Head right and back into Nunton.

Dog friendly, but if livestock are in any of the fields, then please keep your dog on a lead.

Once you've passed the river, head over the small bridge then over the stile and head across the field.

Head through the gate at the end of the village and across the fields to the river.

Go straight over the road once in Odstock, going through the park where you meet the road.

Watch out for livestock in fields, follow the path all the way out into Odstock.

Once out at the dairy, head right down the lane, over the cattle grid and along to the gate at the end of the residential road.

Always best to start and end at a pub, from the Radnor head left then on the right hand side is a footpath into a field at the back of the Church. Once out at the Church turn left and then head through the kissing gate on the right hand side and up through a small wooded area.
